Gospel Meditation

By Father John Muir

Our culture seems more polarized and divided than ever. Into this wounded situation, our Catholic faith has a healing remedy to offer: the gift of wisdom. When the Lord offers to give King Solomon anything the monarch desires, he requests "an understanding heart" (1 Kings 3:9). In his polarized situation, the King doesn't ask for power to defeat his enemies. He asks for a wise and understanding heart to judge right from wrong. This wisdom is elevated and fulfilled in Jesus who teaches us to bring forth "both the new and the old" (Matthew 13:52).

In our fractured society, we Christians should stop pining for political power to crush our perceived enemies. That often just makes things worse. Rather, it's much more useful to beg for the grace of true wisdom which transcends both sides of the aisle. This places us in a fresh position from which we can help our culture see what is true and good all across the ideological spectrum. Sometimes we'll look like liberals (e.g., in our love for the poor and marginalized) and other times like conservatives (e.g., in our sexual ethics and views on religious freedom). Because this wisdom is free from ideological narrowness, it will help to heal these painful fractures. Lord Jesus, this week, pour into us your healing wisdom.

Scripture Reflections

First Reading

The young King Solomon asked the Lord in prayer for a wise and discerning heart, and it was granted to him. What gift would you ask from the Lord?

Second Reading

Paul teaches the believers in Rome that God calls us "according to his purpose."
Do you have a sense your purpose in life? If so, what is it?

Gospel

Jesus offers several kingdom of heaven parables to the disciples: buried treasure and fine pearls (a priceless discovery) and the large catch of fish (an invitation to all). With these parables, what do you think Jesus is teaching us about the kingdom of heaven?

At St. John the Baptist Parish,
we welcome all as members of the Body of Christ.

Mother Teresa traveled the globe condemning abortion, never afraid to speak truth in love. "The greatest destroyer of peace today is the cry of the innocent unborn child." Today millions of unborn children are being killed, but we say nothing.

Consider the thought of becoming involved in this much-needed ministry. All it takes is prayer. We offer assistance and Christ's love to women in what is often a crisis pregnancy. Contact Joanne for more info.

Recognize God in Your Ordinary Moments
By Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

The Falling Action and the Field

In my freshman year of high school, I was fairly miserable at identifying the five essential elements of plot (exposition, rising action, climax, falling action, and resolution).

To this day, the only reason I remember anything about them at all is because my English teacher used episodes of Scooby Doo to illustrate the different elements. Falling action vs. climax is where I got tripped up, the two are similar, and only discernible if you examine them relative to each other.

Every Scooby Doo episode has a big dramatic sequence (the climax) where the ghost/monster/zombie chases The Gang through the haunted mansion. The falling action is what comes immediately after: searching for her glasses that she lost during the chase, Velma bumps into a pulley wheel disguised behind a tapestry and realizes the ghost/monster/zombie is actually the janitor in a costume, hooked up to an elaborate cable system jerry-rigged throughout the mansion. Meddling kids.

I confused the two because, to me, they are both equally dramatic: the chase and the fallout.

It occurs to me that, if you look at the course of salvation history, we are living in the falling action, not the climax. Take the parable of the treasure in the field: we have found the treasure. But we haven't yet bought the field.

I often make the mistake of thinking I am still lost in the climax, searching for the truth. But I know exactly where the truth is.

What I need to be concerned with is this: am I doing what I need to do to buy the field?

“Wonderful are your decrees; therefore I observe them. The revelation of your words sheds light, giving understanding to the simple.”
— Psalm 119

2nd Collection

This weekend's second collection is for St. Vincent de Paul, and we are hopeful that you are able to donate. The number of households we serve has increased. In addition, given the higher cost of food and groceries, we are not limiting our families to once a month for food. Thankfully, we are still receiving food donations from Safeway, Trader Joe's, Grocery Outlet and you, our parish family. God bless you and your families.

Next weekend, our second collection will be for the Mission Cooperative Appeal, an annual program in which missionaries from around the world speak at each parish. The goal of this appeal is to increase awareness of missionary work and to raise funds to help missionary organizations continue their evangelization efforts. Our parish will be visited by Fr. Charles Niwagaba with the University of St. Joseph Mbarara in the Archdiocese of Mbarara in Uganda. He will share with us their courageous evangelization efforts on behalf of the Catholic Church and give us an opportunity to support their work.

C H A R I T Y

Holy men and women from the Americas

Bernard Francis Casey was born November 25, 1870, to Irish immigrant parents in Oak Grove, Wisconsin. When he was 8 years old, he contracted diphtheria which left him with a permanently damaged voice — only able to speak softly and quietly. As a youth, he moved frequently and was unable to finish his schooling. Instead, he took on all sorts of odd jobs, even as a prison guard, before he decided to pursue the priesthood at age 21.

Due to his limited education, he entered the minor seminary of the Archdiocese of Milwaukee. He found that the classes there, taught in either Latin or German, were too difficult as he had no knowledge of either language. The school advised him to, instead, join a religious order and complete his education there. He took this advice to heart and, while in prayer before a statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary, he heard what he described to be Mary's voice telling him to "go to Detroit." He applied to Detroit's Order of Friars Minor Capuchin and entered as a novice in 1887. He was given the religious name "Solanus," after Saint Francis Solanus, because both the saint and Casey loved to play the violin. Although he still struggled with his studies, he received his ordination to the priesthood on July 24, 1904.

Since he always fell behind when it came to his theological education, his ordination was to that of a "simplex" priest. This meant that, although he could celebrate Mass, he was not permitted to hear confessions or to preach doctrinal sermons due to the limitations of his education. His first assignment was to the Sacred Heart Friary in Yonkers, New York, following which he spent time serving at churches near Pen Station and Harlem.

During his 14 years in New York he quickly became known for his pastoral approach and listening ear and people began seeking him out for blessings and prayer for their ailments. In 1924 he transferred to Detroit where he took up the same type of work at St. Bonaventure Monastery. His reputation as a holy man grew quickly and people would come far and wide to visit "The Doorkeeper", as he was commonly known, for prayer and counseling. On an average day, Fr. Casey could have up to 200 visitors seeking time with him!

During his time at St. Bonaventure's, Casey helped found the Capuchin Soup Kitchen to feed those in need in Detroit during the Great Depression. Fr. Casey spent the last decade of his life with the Capuchin novitiate in Huntington, Indiana. When his health began to fail, he was transferred back to Detroit to be hospitalized. He passed away in Detroit in 1957. At his funeral, 20,000 people visited to pay him their respects before he was buried at St. Bonaventure. Following a miracle confirmed by the Vatican in 2017, Pope Francis beatified Fr. Casey, raising his title to "Blessed."

At St. John the Baptist Parish,
we bring Christ's light to all through service to others.

Mt 13:44-52

Your toys can break. Your books can tear. Your clothes can shrink and stain. Things don't last forever. The kingdom of heaven does last forever.

It is like a treasure. Heaven is worth more than anything you own. In both stories, the person who found the treasure sold everything else just to be a part of God's kingdom.
