Welcome to

St. John the Baptist Catholic Church

We are a community where we welcome all as members of the Body of Christ.

We are welcoming, faithful, passionate, joyful, authentic,
sacramental, loving and charitable.

Today's Readings

Sir 27:30-28:7 / Ps 103:1-2, 3-4, 9-10, 11-12 (8) / Rom 14:7-9 / Mt 18:21-35

*"The Lord is kind and merciful, slow to anger, and rich in compassion."
(Ps 103)*

Gospel Meditation

By Father John Muir

When I was in second grade, my prized possession was a metal Star Wars-themed lunch box. After school one day, another student ripped it from my hands. I helplessly watched in horror as my classmate threw it to the ground and violently stomped it into an unrecognizable heap of junk. I came home covered in tears of shame and rage. After a few months, I never thought about it again ... until I was almost thirty years old and on a retreat to prepare for ordination to the priesthood.

That childhood memory — and the attendant outrage — came back afresh. My spiritual director helped me in the process of acknowledging that I was angry because that kid owed me my lunch box. Then she helped me, through the grace of Jesus, to forgive the debt. Almost immediately I felt a new peace. I was amazed that I hadn't forgotten what I had lost, even from years before. Aren't we human beings simply amazing at remembering what people owe us?

We see this week in Jesus' parable a servant who is forgiven much but then commands another servant: "Pay back what you owe!" He can't forget or let go of how he was wronged. He remembers — and he becomes a monster because of it. If only he had remembered not only the debts owed to him, but also his greater debt owed to — and forgiven by — his master. It's natural for us to remember what others owe us. But when we contextualize those offenses in Jesus' mercy toward us and them, we're free to be merciful like the Master and less like a monster who never forgets

Scripture Reflections

First Reading

Sirach teaches that the Lord desires us to be forgiving and merciful to each other. In doing so, the Lord will show us mercy and forgiveness in return. To whom could you show mercy and forgiveness this week?

Second Reading

Paul instructed the Romans that Jesus was the Lord of all — both the living and the dead. How should this reality impact our daily living?

Gospel

Jesus tells the parable of the unforgiving servant to teach the disciples the importance of compassion and forgiveness, especially toward those who sin against you. How do you deal with friends or co-workers who have wronged you?

Recognize God in Your Ordinary Moments

By Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

The Hateful Things We Hug Tight

At the end of "Lord of the Rings: Return of the King," Gollum fights with Frodo for possession of the One Ring. He wins the fight, but in doing so topples over the edge of the mountain ledge, falling into the cavernous fires of Mount Doom. As he falls, we see him smile, and clutch the ring to his chest. He is happy. He has won what he spent his life pursuing.

It is only in the last millisecond before his face slips below the lava that we see his eyes widen in terror as he realizes the truth: the thing he clutches to his heart is the thing that killed him. In choosing the ring, he chooses death.

Sin, and the fallen nature of this world, makes us addicted to something that kills us.

Like any addiction, it is a vicious cycle. The less we forgive, the more hardhearted we become ... and the less we seek forgiveness ourselves.

What breaks the cycle? Reconciliation with God — or, Confession, as we call it. In fact, it does more than break the cycle. It turns it backward. Not only does it detoxify our souls of sin, it weakens our addiction to sin's effects — anger, vengeance, unforgiveness. The confession of evil works is the first beginning of good works, said St. Augustine.

Ultimately, I view our whole human life as a struggle on the ledge of a mountaintop. It is certain that we will choose sin — we always do. We will tumble over the side, toward ruin. But let us be Frodo, and not Gollum. Let us cling to the rock of the sacraments and accept the hand that would drag us away from the flames.

"Wrath and anger are hateful things, yet the sinner hugs them tight." — Sirach 27:30

At St. John the Baptist Parish, we welcome all as members of the Body of Christ.

Our Daily Bread

*"For in the warmth of His presence,
our lives change. Without Him,
everything would truly be grey.
Adoring the Body and Blood of Christ,
let us ask Him with our heart:
Lord, give me the daily bread to go forward, Lord, satisfy me with your presence!"*

Wednesdays, 9:30am, St. John's church

First Saturday, October 7, Holy Trinity Church, El Dorado Hills following the 8:15 am Mass and rosary, beginning at 9:15 am in the View Room. A light breakfast will be provided.

What is Companioned Prayer?

Companioned Prayer is a wonderful prayer of the presence of God in our lives, and in the companionship of one another. Our circle invites you to explore the tender experience of grace, in the mystery of our faith in the personal experience of God's inspiration. Companioned Prayer is a blending of contemplative listening and openness with personal prayer.

This inner listening is practiced with another person, a companion, who helps us stay focused on our inner prayer journey. But even though it is practiced with a companion, our prayer experience is private; it is just between us and God. In this prayer group we not only discover how Companioned Prayer enlivens our own relationship with God, but we will also discover how we are a community of Christ through our presence to each other.

This is a natural process of growth and discovery that happens over time, with others.

Fall Adult Scripture Studies

Contact Teresa or Lee Weider
916-398-1116
laweider631@gmail.com

Fall Scripture Studies will begin the week of September 19th. Two studies will be offered

- 1) First Corinthians DVD Study (11 weeks) is led by Dr. Tim Gray. First Corinthians is loaded with great messages from St. Paul. He's speaking to an early church in the first century but the messages are still applicable to us today - giving us advice on how to live a Christian life and covering topics such as the Church as the body of Christ, the Eucharist, and many more.
- 2) Lectio Eucharist DVD Study (10 weeks) is led by Dr. Brant Pitre. Learn about the biblical roots of the Eucharist from the Jewish Old Testament events to the Gospels and Apostolic teachings. Discover how Christ's Body and Blood are an integral part of God's plan for our salvation.

Each study will have a morning and an evening class in the Parish Office. Both studies will deepen your faith and draw you closer to Christ. See the parish website, and the easel in the vestibule for more information. Sign up using the flyers in the vestibule or on the parish website at folsomcatholic.org. Everyone is welcome! Please contact Teresa or Lee Weider if you have questions.

Holy Men and Women from the Americas

Juan Bautista and Jacinto de los Ángeles were both born the same year, in 1660, in the town of San Francisco Cajonos in Oaxaca, Mexico. The boys grew up together in their Zapotec tribal community with de los Ángeles descending from a long line of tribal chiefs. The boys were raised Catholic and were altar servers in their youth. Both married, had children, and actively participated in their Catholic faiths.

During the centuries that Spanish missionaries were spreading Catholicism in the Americas, and when Spain was actively trying to subjugate Mexico, Catholic missionary priests would appoint local converts as moral authorities in their communities. These deputized fiscales, or marshals, were tasked with upholding both civil and religious laws and reporting information back to the priests and bishops. Indigenous men were banned at the time from becoming priests themselves due to the Spaniards' inability to incorporate the natives' culture into the strict life habits of the Spanish friars. Thus, the highest religious position that a native man could be appointed at the time was that of fiscales. Both Bautista and de los Ángeles were appointed fiscales and revered in their communities as lay catechists, often also aiding the local priests in church affairs.

In 1700 when both were about 40 years old, while doing their rounds as fiscales, they learned that a local man named José Flores would be holding a ritual featuring native idols in his home. The men alerted the Dominican priests to whom they reported and were instructed by the priests to intervene. During the ceremony, Bautista, de los Ángeles, and some of the Dominicans disrupted the ritual and surprised those participating. As the men were well known in the community, many of the participants covered their faces and ran from the home, not wanting to be identified. The idols and other items used in the ritual were confiscated.

Word of retaliation against Bautista and de los Ángeles caused them to seek refuge and hide in the Dominican friary. That evening, an angry mob stormed the church with weapons and threatened to kill everyone inside if the two men weren't handed over. When the Dominican priests refused, the mob burnt down Bautista's nearby home and threatened to burn down the entire church and friary with everyone inside if their demands were not met. Both men decided to give themselves over to the mob to end the brutality and save the lives of everyone else. Before leaving they asked the priests to hear their confessions and administer the Eucharist to them. They then went out to confront the mob and were abducted while yelling back to the priests "Fathers — commend us to God!"

The mob brutalized the men and demanded that they denounce their faith. Despite the torture, neither did. The following day, the mob took them to a large hill near the village, beat them and threw their bodies down the hill. The Dominicans recovered their bodies and buried them at Villa Alta. In 1889 both men's bodies were moved to the Oaxaca Archdiocesan cathedral. In 2001, theologians confirmed that Bautista and de los Ángeles were murdered in hatred of the faith and Saint Pope John Paul II approved their cause and beatification on August 1, 2002, during his apostolic visit to Mexico.

"Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these."

Mt 18:21-35

You sin, just like everybody else does. God forgives you even if your sin is very bad. God washes all of your sins away and treats you with kindness. The next time someone hurts your feelings, remember how God forgives you. Follow God's example.

 Mission for the Week

Name one person you are angry with. Pray to God. Ask God to help you let go of your anger and really forgive.

 Puzzle

Fit this Gospel message into the empty squares.

Forgive your brother from your heart.

 Prayer

God, teach me to forgive other people the way you forgive me.
