Gospel Meditation

By Father John Muir

Matthew 18:21-35

In my parish, there was once a new employee who frequently told me she was sorry for various imperfections in her work. It could be a little tiring. I finally told her, “You know, you don’t have to say ‘sorry’ so often.” She looked me right in the eyes and said, “Father, you’re right. I’m sorry.” Her ear-to-ear grin betrayed that she enjoyed the irony — and that she would keep asking for forgiveness as often as she needed it.

The Gospel reading this week proclaims to us that God, in Jesus, delights in numerous requests for, and the granting of, forgiveness. To Peter’s question, “Lord, if my brother sins against me, how often must I forgive? As many as seven times?” Jesus responds, “I say to you, not seven times but seventy-seven times.”

In other words, Peter, stop counting.

Christian life should be marked by a commitment to frequent forgiveness. God never tires of forgiving us. His limitless love has overcome the power of vengeance, hatred, and division. We tap into that each and every time we ask for forgiveness or extend it to another.

How beautiful our hearts become when they become accustomed to frequent forgiveness! How joyful and attractive become our marriages, families, and parish communities! How light our souls feel when unburdened by the habit of keeping score.

Challenge: Name one thing, small or large, for which you could ask forgiveness from someone in your life. Then do it.

Questions of the Week

1st Reading

Sirach encourages us not to hold anger or seek revenge against a neighbor who has wronged us.

Can you think of a time when you took this good advice?

2nd Reading

Paul tells us that Jesus died and rose to life so he might be the Lord of the living and the dead.

How do you remain open to Jesus as the Lord of your life?

Gospel

In the parable of the unforgiving servant, Jesus teaches Peter the importance of forgiving others from the heart.

How do you know your forgiveness of others is sincere?

Aloha Festival and Fundraiser

Appreciation and Gratefulness are significant in today's life since they bring us into a positive and direct relationship with ourselves as well as other people. Feeling Appreciation and communicating gratefulness opens our hearts and lifts our hands to the assignments before us. These characteristics are otherworldly; they raise us into a domain of higher accomplishment and availability. They unite individuals as they enhance our shared endeavors. Furthermore, they improve our outlook towards life and make us feel that life is better and make us feel sufficient about the amenities we have in our life.
