Today's Readings

2 Kgs 4:8-11, 14-16a / Ps 89:2-3, 16-17, 18-19 (2a) / Rom 6:3-4, 8-11 / Mt 10:37-42

"For ever I will sing the goodness of the Lord"
(Ps 89)

Gospel Meditation

By Father John Muir

As a boy my favorite board game was "Chutes and Ladders." The players roll dice to move from the start to the finish, from the bottom of the board to the top. If you land on a chute, you slide back and down. It was a bummer. Land on a ladder, and you jump well up the board and near the goal. It was a thrill to find a ladder and draw closer to the goal. That's life, isn't it? At every moment, we're either moving closer or farther from the goal of our lives.

How do we win? Jesus tells us the secret of life's chutes and ladders hinges on getting our loves rightly ordered. What we love in life is meant to be a ladder, drawing us up into God's love — including our family, friends, work, play, food, and drink. Even to give your water to someone out of love for Christ leads to a sure reward.

But those ladders of our loves can become chutes. If we love even our family members more than Christ, we slide down and back. If we love the persons and things in our life for the sake of Christ, He says we "surely will not lose our reward." The key difference between a chute and ladder, between our spiritual regression and advancement, is our willingness to renounce everything — even our own life — for the love of Jesus. To allow everything and everyone we love to draw us to love him more — that's the difference between chutes and ladders.

Scripture Reflections

First Reading

The Shunammite woman is rewarded with the promise of a newborn son for her generous hospitality to the prophet Elisha. To whom could you show a good measure of charity this week?

Second Reading

In Paul's view, since Jesus defeated death in his resurrection, he challenged the believers in Rome to think of themselves as "being dead to sin and living for God." How often do you think of ways to put your faith into action?

Gospel

Jesus teaches his disciples about the challenges and rewards of following him. What do you personally find most challenging or rewarding in following Jesus?

Today throughout the United States, we celebrate our freedom. Our rights are protected and opportunities abound. We recognize that freedom has a cost, one we celebrate and honor on days such as this. It's good to honor those who fight for our country, who may well pay the ultimate price for the liberties we're afforded. As faithful Catholics, we recognize that there is more to freedom than simply being at liberty to make our lives what we want them to be. St. John Paul II reminds us: "Freedom is not just doing what we can, it is doing what we ought." We become freer within ourselves and within our relationships when we choose what is right and good. When we choose sin, we become trapped in egoism - less free, not more. This Independence Day, let's continue to pursue virtue and good character and encourage others to do this same.

Prayer for Our Nation

*Dear Lord,
Thank you for our nation.
Thank you for the natural beauty of this country, the people who serve our nation, and freedoms we have been given.
Help us to seek your will in our laws and culture.
Amen.*

Recognize God in Your Ordinary Moments

By Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

A Prophet's Reward

"Move back in with us until you save enough for a decent house," my mother told me over and over again as the birth of my second child neared.

My little family was quickly outgrowing our rented space, but the housing market in our area was a nightmare for first-time homebuyers. As appealing as the offer was, I kept refusing, convinced that my mother didn't understand the chaos, disruption, and loss of personal space that such a move would mean for her and my dad.

I was wrong — she did. And eventually she wore me down. When my son was three months old my family of four moved back into my old bedroom. My parents made an office space for my husband in the basement, and they converted their den into a playroom for two of the loudest children you will ever meet. They told us we could stay as long as we needed to (it ended up being two years). They greeted us with love and warmth every morning and never made us feel like we were an inconvenience.

Today's first reading always reminds me of my mom, not because I consider myself a prophet (hardly) but because of the way she received me — specifically, in whose name she received me.

I've always tried to understand exactly what makes my parents' acts of love — toward me, toward each other, toward perfect strangers — feel so genuine. I think, after more than 30 years, I've finally realized the secret: my parents love God more than they love me. They love God more than they love anyone.

Like making room in their life and their home for me and my boisterous family, these acts originate in sacrifice. They don't come cheap. They come from the cross.

"Whoever loses his life for my sake will find it." — Matthew 10:39

Holy men and women from the Americas

Fernando Rielo was born in Madrid, Spain on August 28, 1923. His formative years were affected by the Spanish Civil War. Right before his First Communion, he and other children preparing for the sacrament were forced to stand before a firing squad. When the soldiers asked the children to renounce their faith, he refused. As a young man he went on to study art and philosophy and fall in love.

However, after having a personal spiritual vision, he was inspired to dedicate his life to his love of Jesus Christ, renouncing marriage.

In 1946, he started formation with the Redemptorist Fathers. A few years into his training, he had a vision that he described as the Lord telling him that he would not be ordained a priest. Before deciding what to do next, Rielo consulted with twelve priests and religious men, all belonging to different orders. All advised him to start what would eventually become an important world-wide religious institution, the Idente Missionaries of Christ the Redeemer, founded by Rielo in 1959 on the island of Tenerife, Spain. Throughout his life, Rielo continued to study philosophy and metaphysics. In 1963, while walking in a park, he was struck with inspiration and started formulating the metaphysical model he would become known for — the Genetic Model. Once parsed out, he began corresponding with the Pope Paul VI, delivering to him the metaphysical model, and explaining the charism of his recently built Institution. During this time, the Institution began to expand across Spain and into different countries. Rielo kept growing its reach and developed cultural and humanitarian organizations closely connected to the Missionaries as well as a youth development program so that children could learn the charisms of the Institution.

His contributions to metaphysics, philosophy, poetry, and theology, as well as to his communities, earned him an honorary Doctorate from Lajo University in Ecuador as well as an appointment as a Member of the North American Academy of the Spanish Language and the International Center for Hispanic Studies. In 1988 he moved to New York City for specialized medical care after the amputation of his right leg. Throughout his life, Rielo struggled greatly with his health. These health struggles prompted him to dedicate his life to serving those in the Institute as well as building his metaphysical school of thought. He died in New York City in 2004 at the age of 81.

To this day, the Institute he founded can be found in 25 nations across 90 houses. The Idente Missionaries rose, under Pope Benedict XVI, to the status of religious institute of consecrated life of pontifical right.

KID'S CORNER

"Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these."

Mt 10:37-42

God wants you to love your family and friends. But God wants you to love him even more. Be kind to your mom and listen to her. Help your dad with chores and have fun with him. But also remember to help people who are not in your family. God gets excited when you share his love with others

Mass Celebrated Around the World

Is the Catholic Mass really celebrated the same throughout the whole world?

One of the truisms of the Catholic Faith is that “wherever you go in the world, the Mass is the same. In fact, the answer to this question is both “yes” and “no.”

On the one hand, the essential elements of the Roman Rite are the same. The structure of the Mass as it is presented in the Roman Missal is consistent and this is one of the beauties of belonging to a liturgical tradition.

On the other hand, however, there are elements of celebrations that can vary depending on the country or even local region you might be in. For example, in certain parts of the world, certain feasts and solemnities are celebrated on different days (even here in the United States the Solemnity of the Ascension of the Lord can be celebrated on Thursday of the Sixth Week of Easter or it may take the place of the Seventh Sunday of Easter, depending on what diocese you are in).

Whether it is the use of certain liturgical colors, local celebrations of regional saints, special seasonal blessings of crops or produce, or the use of dance and processions all demonstrate a sort of organic variety that can exist even within our established liturgical tradition. While we always respect what is essential to the rite, such local variations and traditions are very much in keeping with the vision of liturgical renewal and adaption envisioned by the Second Vatican Council’s Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy (nos. 37-40).
